

A detailed microscopic image of several viruses, likely influenza, showing their characteristic spherical shape and numerous surface spikes. The viruses are rendered in shades of green, yellow, and purple, set against a blurred background of more viruses.

gross.

A SINGLE SNEEZE CAN SPRAY 100,000 GERMS INTO THE AIR.

MORE THAN 200 VIRUSES CAN CAUSE THE COMMON COLD.

THE FLU VACCINE LOWERS YOUR CHANCES OF GETTING THE FLU BY 60%.

Don't influence others.
You can stop what's going around.

Find out the best ways to stay healthy this cold and flu season by visiting www.SouthCarolinaBlues.com.

South Carolina