EMERGENCY MEDICAL TECHNICIAN

PIEDMONT TECHNICAL COLLEGE

The aging population of the US is driving the demand for additional Emergency Medical Technicians (EMTs). As the population ages, the increase in age-related health emergencies, such as heart attacks and strokes will subsequently also increase. This will ensure a continuous demand for part-time, volunteer, and full-time EMTs in rural and smaller metropolitan areas.

Piedmont Technical College's Emergency Medical Technician Certificate program combines classroom learning and extensive practical hands-on labs. Graduates of the program will be eligible to sit for the National Registry of Emergency Medical Technicians (NREMT) Exam.
